A woman's head was found near the beach at Sausaiito, a suburb of this city, a few days ago, it bore several wounds, but was supposed to be part of a dissecting room emblect.

A day or two later portions of a woman's body hadly decomposed, floated ashore near Oakland.

To-day the head was identified as that of Addile Glimore, a comely young millinor of Colusa. The young woman came to Sausaito three weeks ago and went to work in a wholesais house. She was last seen alive Sept. 4.

From all indications she was a victim of malpractice and her body was cut up and thrown into the bay with weights attached. The fastenings were loosened and the head drifted north to Sausaitto.

A quarrel ensued about the woman and Barnie says the man with Fello pulled a razor and slashed him over the back of the neck, making a long deep gash. At the same time Fello pulled a knife and stabbed Barnie in the abdomen.

The assailants then ran away in different directions.

Barine started in pursuit of Fello. Each step he took he grew weaker from loss of blood.

Patrolman Connelly, of the Eighth Precinct, came along and took a hand in the chase. He caught Fello and held him until tlarine came up.

Harine fell on the sidewalk unconscious en reaching the policeman and his prisoner. Connelly called an ambulance and the injured man was taken to the hospital Fello was arragued before Justee Wairh in the Butler Street Police Court the morning. He pleaded not guilty, and was held for examination on Sept. 126.

FATHER CORRIGAN PLEASED. Wigger's Silence Caused Him to the accident.

Publish Satolli's Letter. Pather Corrigan appeared to be in good humor this morning over the turn of affairs in his controversy with Hishop Wigger. The much looked for sensation had come in the publication to-day by Father Corrigan of the letter written by Mgr. Satolit to Hishop Wigger in which the Papel Delegate decides against the Hishop and austains Father Corrigan in the course he has pursued regarding the Hoboken parochial schools.

The letter was written on Aug. 31 at Washington, and in it Mgr. Satolit tells the Hishop in plain words that his views on parochial schools are neither approved by the Pope nor Mgr. Satolit, and that parachial schools should not be imposed on poor Catholic parishes.

Father Corrigan says that Bishop Wigger's silence rompelled him to make public the Satolit letter. He is sorry, he says, that the Hishop is placed in such a position. Father Corrigan is especially hitter against Father Synott, one of the priests of Seton Hall. He says that Father Synott has proved himself unfit to teach young men preparing for the priesthood. Father Corrigan appeared to be in good humos
